Directors' Biography

Chris Calabretta

Chris Calabretta is an experienced leader in Supply Chain and Procurement. Driven by developing people, defining organizational structures and technical expertise, he takes pride in providing the best work environment possible. As a Vice President for multiple Fortune 500 companies his goals include immediate and sustained value delivery, creating high performing work teams and challenging leaders to change from “this is how we have always done it” to “this is the way we need to do it”. In addition to his primary job functions, Chris has been recognized for his extraordinary commitment to Supplier Diversity, promoting senior level talent and creating synergies during times of new company acquisitions.

Chris has experience across the CPG, Life Sciences, Telecommunications and Clinical Trial industries for 34 years, gaining experience in Logistics, Plant Management, Project Management, Planning, Procurement and end-to-end Supply Chain. He has worked for Frito-Lay, Johnson & Johnson, Campbell's Soup, CommScope and Ancillare. As a seasoned Vice President, he is passionate about advancing the growth and knowledge of himself and his teams. In addition to his career, he is also involved in Senior Board Advisor roles for a private equity firm and a Generative AI start-up company.

Outside of the office, Chris enjoys spending time with his three young men, vacations with his wife, and keeping up his golf game! He is based out of Lower Gwynedd, PA and continues to look for new challenging opportunities and personal growth.
